New Elevator at Ralph Switch Is Open For Harvest

John L. Hammond, J. B. Anthony and Conway Kuykendall, owners of the new Randall County Grain Co. elevator at Ralph Switch report that they are ready for the harvest season. Kuykendall is manager of the new firm.

A 30,000 bushel elevator of iron and wood construction has been completed, which also has a large warehouse for feed storage. The elevator is equipped with an electric truck lift, and has 1200 feet of railroad trackage.

The office building, 45 by 20 feet in size, is of brick and tile construction. Glass brick is used for inside decoration, separating the manager's private office from the settlement office. The building is equipped with modern rest rooms, shower room and flourescent lighting. Forty-five foot electric automatic Howe truck scales have been installed. An electric automatic water system and propane gas system are other modern features. Driveways and approaches to the elevator will be surfaced.

A six room managers' home with full basement apartment for employees is now under construction. The home will match the office in architectural design.

A modern filling station will also be built to handle Gulf petroleum products and a complete line of filling station accessories.

The elevator is connected with Canyon by private telephone. Johnnie Merriman and LaNora Mahler have been employed as bookkeepers for the harvest season.

Roy Leavitt brought the first load of wheat to the new elevator. His wheat tested 60 moisture 13 and is yielding 11½ bushels per acre.

Citizens Called Upon for Savings Bond Purchases

Randall county citizens are called upon to buy a minimum of $57,500 of Savings Bonds between June 6 and July 4. This is a patriotic call for each and every citizen to do his best in financing the reconversion program of the government.

Bonds on sale are E, F and G.

Randall county is credited with having bought the following E Bonds during the first four months of 1946:

January, $22,462.50.
February, $34,106.25.
March, $19,575.00.
April, $14,043.75.

While there has been a steady sale of E Bonds to citizens seeking the safest investment in the world, the amounts sold have not been up to the anticipation of the government. While no high pressure campaign will be put on in order to boost the sales of bonds until July 4, it is hoped that each and every citizen will buy some bonds in order to put the drive over the top.

This will be the first time in 1946 that a quota has been given Randall county on the bonds.

Gidden Staes That One Community Is Strong on Unity

E. Gidden spent last week at Azle attending the annual Homecoming of his old home. He pointed out a number of interesting things about the small community.

There are three churches in Azle, Baptist, Methodist and Christian. Yet there has never been a funeral held in any but the Baptist Church during the past 50 years. This church adjoins the cemetery, and all denominations use the Baptist Church for funerals.

The annual Homecoming is held in the Baptist Church, yet is directed by members of other denominations.

Mr. Gidden states that he has never seen such unified community interest as shown in this town.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Gidden, Mrs. Mamie Butler, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Butler.

National Guard May Be Returned

Government Asks That Land Be Donated Now; Plan for Permanent Improvements

The Chamber of Commerce has been notified by General Fred L. Walker, commanding officer of the National Guard of Texas, that Canyon has been tentatively selected as the home of an Anti-tank Company of the 142nd Infantry. The company would consist of five officers and 76 enlisted men.

Since there will be no money available to secure housing facilities until next spring, unless temporary quarters may be provided by the people of Randall county, the company cannot be organized until next spring.

It is planned to erect permanent armories in each town where a guard unit is located. For that purpose communities are asked to buy 20 acres of land within 1½ miles of the city limits. This land would be deeded to the state after permanent quarters were established and buildings were assured.

Randall county citizens are asked to advise at once if the community will co-operate in furnishing temporary quarters and to furnish the necessary land for the armory. Organization of the company will be taken up by State Headquarters as soon as preliminary details are worked out.

Wheat Is Coming To Local Market

Yields Are Running From Five to 20 Bushels in First Cuttings of County

Harvest is underway in Randall county. Wheat is making from five to 20 bushels to the acre, according to reports which have come in. All of the high yielding wheat is being cut on summer fallowed land. However, not all of the wheat on summer fallowed land is making a high yield.

Jess Hicks brought the first wheat to Canyon Friday. Carl Overton brought in the second load Saturday. Practically all of the wheat that has come in so far has been No. 1. While some of the early delivered wheat is a little green, the continued hot weather will soon dry all of the wheat.

It is believed that harvest will be in full swing over the county by the end of this week.

Flying Club Will Breakfast at W. T. on June 23

An invitation was extended to the Flying Breakfast Club, which met in Plainview on June 9, to hold the next meeting in Canyon. The gathering of Panhandle fliers unanimously accepted.

The group is to be the guests of Canyon, Canyon Aviation Service, and West Texas State, on Sunday, June 23. President J. A. Hill said, "we are indeed fortunate to have this large group of prominent Panhandle men and women here in our community, to inspect our modern town, up-to-date air port, and College."

The "flying breakfasts" are a nation-wide move, and this one was installed at Childress several months ago. At the first breakfast there was a small group of pilots, and each meeting has experienced a large growth in attendance. The air enthusiasts come from all over the tri-state area, and leave their homes in time to fly to the bi-weekly Sunday meeting by 8:00 o'clock.

The airmen will start arriving at West Texas State Field about seven o'clock, and await transportation to Cousins Hall dining room where breakfast will be served promptly at eight. It is expected that there will be seventy five airplanes here. The planes will differ in type from a one place light plane to an Army AT-6.

Cars Collided on Highway Tuesday

Four persons suffered cuts and bruises at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday morning in a head-on collision near Ralph Switch.

They were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Harris of O'Donnell, their son, 10 years old, and daughter, 12. All were brought to Neblett Hospital for treatment by Griggs-Warren ambulance.

Mrs. Harris sustained a sprained ankle and bruises. The boy received a severe flesh cut under his left arm and a hard lick behind his left ear. The girl's back was badly strained.

The Harris family was enroute to Amarillo to visit relatives in a hospital there. As they were driving north on a straight stretch of road, they saw a car being driven south pull squarely over to their side of the road. To avoid a collision Mr. Harris pulled to the other side of the road. Evidently the driver of the south bound car awoke literally or mentally and realized where he was. He swung abruptly back to his side of the road and the cars made a head on collision.

The driver of the south bound car was uninjured.

Harrell Secures Additional Land

Trades New Mexico Property For Adjoining Lands Bought By His Father Years Ago

By exchanging 22,730 acres of New Mexico ranch land for 20 sections of Randall County land on the south rim of the Palo Duro Canyon, Newton Harrell, Randall and Armstrong County rancher, has become owner of large tracts of land bordering both sides of the Palo Duro State Park.

The transaction Friday was the consummation of an unusual four-way series of sales in which Newton Harrell and Bun Lewis, big-time New Mexico rancher, sought to consolidate and expand their respective ranch land holdings in the Panhandle and the eastern part of the Sunshine State.

Properties and cattle valued at half a million dollars changed hands in the somewhat involved business deal.

Tom W. Cotten, Amarillo realtor, was the prime mover in the chain of transactions. It was he who took the first step by purchasing the 20-section Jim Hedgecoke ranch in Randall County. This was a money transaction.

The next step was to trade the 20 sections in Randall County to Newton Harrell for the 22,730 acres of ranch land in New Mexico. This was land Mr. Harrell had purchased from the Julian Bivins estate in 1943. It was known as the "east half." In the same year Bun Lewis had purchased the west half of the Bivins property. The Cotten-Harrell exchange was completed last Monday.

Friday it was announced that the final step had been completed, and Mr. Lewis had purchased the "east half" of the former Bivins New Mexico ranch from Mr. Cotten.

The Lewis expanded holdings adjoins the Matador ranch on the west and represents a total of over 75,000 acres of New Mexico ranch land.

The newly purchased land owned by Mr. Harrell is on the rim of the Palo Duro Canyon, about eight miles east of West Texas State College. On it is located the section of canyon where the lighthouse formation stands, pictures of which are included in scenic pictures of the Palo Duro Canyon.

The original Harrell property extends eastward along the north rim of the Palo Duro Canyon toward Armstrong County. On this land is located the old home ranch camp where Charles Goodnight first settled.

Mr. Harrell is the son of the late Ed Harrell of Canyon, pioneer cattleman. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and is now a member of the Board of Regents of West Texas State College.

At the present time he is leasing Palo Duro State Park land for grazing purposes.

Editorials

We presume that Fred M. Vinson will make a good member of the Supreme Court. However, we feel that the nation would have profited had some good lawyer outside of Washington circles been named by President Truman for the job. There is something about the Washington atmosphere that dulls the senses to a true appreciation of the needs of the nation. Vinson has been in Washington so long that he knows too little about the nation, except as reports are brought to him from the outside. These reports are usually biased and purely political. The Supreme Court is composed of men thoroughly saturated with the idealology of the New Deal. Little else counts in their way of thinking. The Supreme Court should be above petty politics, but such is not the case. There are many capable and highly qualified lawyers in the nation, who do not live in Missouri, or have never been a member of the inner circles of the administration. One of these would have suited the needs of the country better than one of the President's cronies. Yet every President calls upon his inner circle when there are favors to hand out. Truman is no different from those presidents who have preceded him.

The battle is on in Texas. The state candidates are on the move, and soon we shall have candidates with us every few days. Perhaps many voters have already made up their minds as to whom they shall support. While theoretically this may be true, as a matter of record it is far from the truth. Political campaigns are won or lost within the last few days before elections. But what we started to say is: Meet the candidates; look them over; ask them questions; get their views on the questions in which you are interested. Texas is such a big state that few candidates are able to appreciate all of the problems which confront the citizens unless they are educated as they mingle with the voters. By all means, talk to your candidates. Get their point of view on questions of the day.

We talked with a radio man the other day. He stated that all stations discouraged the use of radio for political campaigning. We see that Homer P. Rainey has been turned down by the Texas Quality Network, which will not sell all of the candidates all of the time that they wish. What is in the air, politically? Have the stations become suspicious of the political situation, and desirous to stand by their regular commercial supporters, or have the people rebelled when they tune in with the view of getting their favorite program only to hear a political candidate who has bought up the time? Dr. Rainey has a huge campaign fund at his disposal, and wants to use the radio. Perhaps he feels more secure in talking at long range via the radio to the voters than face to face where he might be asked embarrassing questions.

Governor Warren of California will be returned to office in spite of the huge CIO fund which was spent trying to defeat him. As a result of his victory, Warren is the outstanding candidate for the Republican nomination in 1948. Governor Dewey of New York will be shoved aside as the bigwigs of the party realize that he has no appeal for the common man of the nation. For awhile it looked as if the stock of Harold Stassen of Minnesota was going up. Now he is dubbed as the Henry Wallace of the Republican party. He has been too close to the Roosevelt and Truman administrations to suit the Republican chieftains. While 1948 may seem a long time off, political fences for that mighty political battle are now being built.

Well, the Newsman can now start bragging about his experiences in a hospital. All good and well, but being in a hospital for only seven days is so darned far from funny that we are not inclined to brag about it. Perhaps next year. But we sure do wonder at the marvels of modern medical science, and the operations of a modern hospital. When we consider what a specialist of today can do for one's eyes, we recalled the bushels of eyes which were sacrificed to science in order that we might benefit of 1946 knowledge. You can bet your bottom dollar that we are glad to get home.

You will recall that J. E. McDonald, State Commissioner of Agriculture, has openly defied the Democratic administration in Washington since the days of Hoover. Various attempts have been made to defeat him, but he has always been re-elected by large majorities. An old, old stunt is being tried again this year. McDonald has three opponents. One of them is "R. E." McDonald of Austin. The State Committee hopes that the voters will become confused between J. E. and R. E. McDonald, and thereby nose old Jim out of the second primary. The stunt has been tried time and time again, but has always failed. In other words, the State Committee thinks that the voters are so ignorant that they will not know the difference. Perhaps it will work in 1946; and then again it may be another failure to the long list of previous failures in the effort to confuse the voters.

Teachers in Texas are caught in a situation which is ridiculous. While members of other professions usually consider that advanced training and added experience makes for better pay, not so with teachers. Every first class high school in Texas requires advanced degrees for its teachers. Colleges require the Doctor's degree. It takes time and costs a lot of money to secure these advanced degrees. Yet the teacher who goes out for his first year gets about the same salary as those who have spent thousands of dollars in advanced training. The public has too long taken teaching for granted. The average citizen says: "Let 'em quit if they do not like their salaries." This attitude has cost the schools of Texas many trained and well qualified teachers. Those who are not qualified should not be kept on their jobs at any price.

Citizens are warned to beware of grafters who are out to "help World War II soldiers." A fellow is under arrest for fleecing Canyon citizens under the guise of buying wheel chairs for crippled soldiers. This outfit is wanted in many towns. While service men, who came thru the war safe and sound, may think they have been badly treated at times by their government, there is no complaint from those who were wounded. Our government is doing a fine job for these men. They are not dependent upon charity, and every one of them would resent any attempt to make them subjects of charity. Fellows who run over the country under the guise of raising money for the sick and crippled veterans are grafters of the worst type, and should be treated like any other racketeer.

Polio is on the increase in Texas. There seems to be just one cause for this dreaded disease—filth. It is not always the people who are responsible for filth who suffer the disease. The disease spreads to innocent victims, sometime to those families who are doing their best to keep their premises sanitary. Polio is striking early this year. There is only one thing that can be done—CLEAN UP—and KEEP CLEAN. Canyon officials are doing everything they can to clean up the town before the disease hits. Are we as citizens DOING OUR PART?

GIs will likely receive compensation as terminal leave. This payment has been made to discharged officers. Enlisted men have charged that terminal leave pay was unfair. Men in the service like to gripe. They will now have one of their aches healed by an act of Congress. This is one time that the sentiments of GI Joe are being sought by the lawmakers, and GI Joe is not afraid to express his opinion.

It looks as if both France and Italy were veering to the right. This means that the influence of Russia is not so strong in those nations as Stalin would like to see. Maybe the war has brought a little sense to some nations after all.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Canyon is not the only town in which the menace of fireworks is being protested by citizens. In practically every country newspaper we saw the same appeal to boys and girls to quit the foolish practice of firing firecrackers. During the war no firecrackers were available. Now the highways outside of every town have salesmen, who are doing a profitable business. While Canyon and practically every other town has ordinances against firing fire crackers within the city limits, the practice continues. No one wants to see boys and girls arrested for this foolish practice, but it is so dangerous as to merit rough treatment.

We see that the president of a great university is warning all educational institutions to return to pre-war standards and not be victims of pressure groups to continue abbreviated courses. During the war people were rushed through colleges and universities. They were not given the usual opportunities for a liberal education. Now that the war is over this educator urges that institutions refuse to submit to the national hysteria to continue these short courses. To the layman this sounds logical.

We have so often heard of "fireproof" buildings, which have suffered serious fires, that the word is beginning to mean little or nothing. The tragedy of the Chicago hotel fire should impress upon every citizen of Canyon the necessity of taking every care in the way of fire prevention. When big buildings explode almost without reason, we should be impressed with the necessity of keeping little buildings, particularly homes, free from every sort of fire hazard.

Hirohito bobs up again and urges the Japs to raise more food. As a matter of justice, if the warring nations cannot forget their desire to rule the world, or some small part of it, millions of them will starve during the coming months. Almost all of these nations could raise a sufficient amount of food to keep body and soul together if they will get down to that business rather than that of preparing for another war, while depending on food from America.

Gruver Holds Position In Hat Firm

Miss Goldia Gruver, a mathematical major and graduate of West Texas State, is a bookkeeper and accountant for the firm of Leslie-James of Los Angeles. This firm manufactures hats which retail in price from twenty-five to fifty dollars each.

Besides work which is indicated by her title of bookkeeper-accountant, Miss Gruver spends a large amount of time on personnel problems as they arise in the factory.

Writing recently of her work she says, "I am continually using my mathematics in solving problems directly connected with my work. I know that I owe a lot of my mathematical training for without it, I could never have taken the position I now hold."

All of Miss Gruver's mathematics was taken at West Texas State.

OUR DEMOCRACY——by Mat

THE ROADS OUR FATHERS BUILT SERVED THEM WELL, BUT TO MEET THE NEEDS OF AMERICA TODAY, WE ARE ENGINEERING A NEW CONCEPT OF HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION—BUILDING FOR GREATER EFFICIENCY AND SAFETY—FOR SWIFTER TRANSPORT.

THESE NEW HIGHWAYS ARE IMPORTANT ARTERIES IN THE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM OF OUR COUNTRY. BUT BEYOND THAT, THEY CREATE BROADER HORIZONS FOR LIVING—TEND TO BRING PEOPLE OF ALL SECTIONS CLOSER TOGETHER IN UNDERSTANDING AND APPRECIATION OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Dear Pop:

Once a year we get a chance to thank you for all you've done . . . helping with the home-work and getting us out of jams. (Which reminds us, Mr. Berkly, our neighbor, wants to see you tomorrow.) No kidding pop, we think you're a solid sender so we put our heads and greenbacks together and picked out some things we hope you like. The tie is from Jimmy. (Don't worry, mom didn't pick it out.) The jacket is from Steve. Hope he's home by next Father's Day. Sue gave you a belt that's adjustable after dinner. The slippers are from little Babs, or weren't you hinting? The shirt and sweater are from me. It's not bad having so many kids after all, is it pop?

From all of us . . . .

P. S. To make this the best Father's Day you ever had we bought the gifts from the store you like the best. . . .

President Speaks Methodist Church

President J. A. Hill was guest speaker at the Canyon Methodist Church on Sunday. He had been invited to outline to the Methodist congregation the program of religious education as planned at West Texas State College.

In connection with the service, thirty-one people made contributions totaling $230.25 to the college chapel fund.

President Hill stated that a large number of people indicated their desire to make contributions to the chapel and religious education project.

Vacationists Must Be Careful When Going Swimming

Some timely advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports during summer months was released from the State Health Department by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It is pointed out that in view of prevailing travel difficulties, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted; "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, are disregarded."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety: when swimming, be alert and careful of unknown depths and currents; at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore and call it a day; if you become chilled, leave the water immediately; do not enter the water when overheated; learn to float; this is most important; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming close to or even a few miles below sewage outlets is inviting the possibility of acquiring disease.

"Excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, normal life, which is always desirable," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

TIME TO ADVERTISE

A superstitious subscriber wrote to an editor saying that he had found a spider in his paper and asking whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The editor wrote this answer and printed it:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace afterward."

Old Medicines Should Be Done Away With at Once

There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything including old clothes, boxes, and other useless articles, some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicine in any form.

Most medicine finds itself into the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left-over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left-over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a vary serious condition of actual poisoning," Dr. Cox said. This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some previous specific condition.

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect a return of the same condition at some future date, it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject the members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

Moore Withdraws; Is For Boyce House For Lt. Governor

Brownwood, June 12—Latest development in the swift moving campaign of Boyce House for Lieutenant Governor is the withdrawal of Bob Moore, Amarillo and Brownwood publisher, from the race, and the announcement of his support of House.

Moore, one of the leading candidates until his withdrawal several days ago, is widely known over the state and political observers had predicted he would have polled a credible vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sluder and family who have lately moved to near Tres Piedras, N. M., had the misfortune of getting their home burned last Monday night and lost most of their household goods. The oil cook stove had been filled with gas that was bought for kerosene and exploded. Mr. and Mrs. Sluder came out here on Thursday to visit with her mother, Mrs. E. A. Franklin. Friday night about midnight they received a message from New Mexico that one of their girls had appendicitis and had been taken to the hospital, so they rushed back home to her brother, Sid Franklin's, where the children were staying.

Some have begun harvesting their wheat. The yield will be light in this area, owing to the dry weather.

Kerry Neil Franklin celebrated his 10th birthday last Thursday at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franklin. His grandmother served a fried chicken dinner, and for dessert a large angel food cake with candles and ice cream with crushed strawberries. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Franklin and girls of Canyon were dinner guests and brought a large watermelon. Glen Franklin was also present.

Miss Tilford Is Bride of E. F. Hicks in Cincinnati, Ohio

In an impressive double ring ceremony Julia M. Tilford, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Whitacre Tilford, Cincinnati, Ohio, and the late Dr. William Harmon Tilford, became the bride of Mr. Elmer F. Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Frank Hicks, Canyon, May 11 at 4:30 p. m.

Rev. Robert K. Foster, pastor of the Oakley Presbyterian Church, read the service at the home of the bride, in the presence of the immediate family, relatives and close friends. Mrs. Julia Williams Menturn played "The Sweetest Story Ever told," "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the rituals.

Arrangments of mock orange blossoms, roses and iris decorated the mantle and tables at the end of the room where the ceremony was held.

Miss E. Jean Tilford, attended her sister as maid-of-honor and Mr. William Lee Ungard, Xenia, Ohio, served as best man.

Given in marriage by Dr. Samuel Willard Herman, the bride was attired in a powder blue street length dress—a halo of pink carnations completed her ensemble.

Miss Tilford wore a dress of identical style, only in light yellow, a waist corsage of white carnations and yellow daisies were her flowers.

Following the wedding ceremony, a small reception was held for the wedding guests, honoring the couple. A color scheme of pink was carried throughout.

For the wedding trip to St. Louis, Mo., the bride chose a three piece suit of rose gabardine, with black patent accessories. The couple are now at home in Canyon.

Mrs. Hicks was graduated from Withrow High School and attended the Schuster-Martin School of Drama and the Cincinnati College of Music Radio Division, all of Cincinnati. She was formerly Publicity Director of Radio Station WOP, in Bristol, Tennessee, and more recently was associated with "the Southwesterner" a publication of the Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo, at the present time she is with the Continuity Department of Radio Station KGNC Amarillo.

Mr. Hix was graduated from Canyon High School and attended West Texas State College and the University of Cincinnati. He will continue his studies at the University of Texas in Austin, in the fall. He recently was discharged from the army after 18 months service overseas.

Partners? Sure, Bill and Pat are partners! They've been partners since that very first day at the hospital, when little Pat smiled up from his crib at his big, broad-shouldered dad—and wiggled his baby toes. Right then was when Bill promised himself that he'd see to it that his son got the very best chance in life that Bill could provide.

And Bill has kept that promise. Regardless of the future, Pat will get to go through high school—and college, too. More than that—little Pat has a "nest-egg" to start in business, or to enter the profession of his choice. And Bill has seen to it that nothing can alter those plans for Pat, because he's built them all through Southwestern Life Insurance.

COX HOME SCENE OF COVERED DISH LUNCHEON FOR IN-LAWS

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox, 1905 4th Ave., were host and hostess to the Mother-in-Law Club members and their husbands on Tuesday, June 7th with a covered dish luncheon.

Beautiful arrangements of spring flowers were carried out in all the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. R. D. Lowery called the group to order and with Mrs. Mary Langston at the piano, folk songs were enjoyed by all. Then luncheon was served in the spacious dining room. The table decorations were crystal bowls of pink and cream roses set on reflectors from the center of the table.

Two pottery vases were presented to the hostess from the club members in appreciation of the many enjoyable hours spent in her home.

For the program, Mr. Cox favored the group with motion pictures, and a reading of some poetry he, himself, "cooked up," as he called it, "I attended a meeting of that Mother-in-law Club." It was very true to form and was enjoyed very much.

For a special feature, Alvin Jennings introduced Miss Virgiina Hunter, who gave a splendid imitation of Miss Minnie Pearl, of radio fame.

A special commencement program will be given at the church by the boys and girls on Friday, June 21 at 8:00 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

OPA Has Tied Up Business, Verdict of Returned GI

Charles Graham talked on the veteran's experience in business at the Canyon Rotary luncheon Tuesday. He gave a humorous recital of his experiences in the army when he was drafted in New York, sent south to Louisiana, then to Texas, and on to Arizona.

He was a sergeant and stationed with the cadet unit at West Texas State. Both Sgt. Graham and Mrs. Graham were so delighted with Canyon that they decided to return here after his discharge. When friends advised him that the Cleland Grocery was for sale, he came from New York, and bought the business. Both are highly pleased with their reception here.

OPA regulations have been the greatest handicap. Veterans are given no preference by the government.

Visitors were: Arch Hunsley, Van H. Alton, Max Watson, E. C. Waggoner, Emil P. Myers, Jess Rogers, R. Earl O'Keefe, J. T. Roberson, all of Amarillo, J. Davis Hill of Galveston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rowan from Carlsbad, N. M., visited in the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Dowd and family last week as they were passing through enroute to Champagne, Ill., where he will enter school for the summer.

Ray Campbell, Tom Knighton, Pat Britain, Andy Walsh and Hud Prichard left Saturday for the annual Telephone trip to Crede, Colo. fishing. They were joined in Amarillo by men from Amarillo and Fort Worth.

Capt. Strader of White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Neblett. Capt. Strader and Dr. Neblett served in the same Medical Unit in the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hill and children of Galveston and Mrs. Lenore Hill and children of Borger are visiting in the parental Dr. J. A. Hill home.

Major Alton P. Donnell stopped over last week for two days' visit in the parental L. A. Donnell home. He was flying from Oak Ridge, Tenn. to Los Alamos, New Mexico, on official business in connection with the atomic bomb project.

Mrs. Annie Evans from Tulia visited over the week end in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Dowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips vacationed at Carlsbad Cavern this week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Children's day will be observed at the morning service on Sunday. The boys and girls of the Beginner-Primary Department will sing and tell some of the things they have learned in Sunday school. A one act play, "The Light" will be given to show the influence of our Sunday school missionaries. An offering for this important phase of our National Mission work will be received.

Vacation Bible School will begin on Monday morning at nine. Boys and girls, 4 to 15 years old, will enjoy the Christian experience of study, play, and worship for two weeks, June 17-28. This will be a joint school conducted by the Christian and Presbyterian Churches with leaders from both.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Won't it be great when you can again order a ham sandwich and get ham—and not "pressed ham?"

Rambling over Texas: Near Springtown, a road-runner scurrying across the highway, the first one this observed had seen in a long time; and, south of Sweetwater, a hawk so big he looked like an eagle—he sat on a fence post and disdained to stir as the car whirled past.

Near Hondo, a vast field of yellow stubble with hundreds of red-and-white cows grazing—in the distance, a solid line of jagged mountains veiled in blue.

At Yoakum, chickens peering out of second story windows of a building—a poultry establishment, of course.

And in Abilene, a sign: "Frisky minnows."

Your columnist is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Texas. It would be deeply appreciated if you would say a kind word to your friends about Boyce House. With your help, we can win.

Why is a lawyer's brief called "brief?"

There was a little discussion in this space a few weeks ago about whether it was ungrammatical to use a preposition to end a sentence with. E. Roberts of the Andrews County News sends in a story about a boy who was sick and asked his nurse to read to him from "Robinson Crusoe" but she brought in "Swiss Family Robinson" instead and he demanded, "What did you bring me that book to be read out of to from for?"

Father's Day

"Well, well, what's all this?" he'll inquire gruffly (as if he didn't know) when Sis and Brother, shining clean and behaving most uncharacteristically, like little angels, present him with a double armload of boxes from T. A. Black's. But watch his blissful expression as he wiggles his toes into the Socks from Sis; note the sparkle in his eyes when he dons Brother's bright plaid shirt—and get that special look he flashes to you, Mother, when he detects your artistic touch in the Toiletries and Ties. "This is heaven," he'll sigh, as he lights his pipe and picks up the Sunday paper. And maybe he's right—certainly there'll be a seraphic glow surrounding Father, you—and the angels!

Jester Is Highly Pleased at Support Offered Over Texas

Corsicana.—"The deluge of telegrams and letters pledging support of my campaign, following Gov. Coke Stevenson's announcement he would not be a candidate for governor, shows my campaign has been vastly strengthened. This makes me more determined than ever to fight for the state's post-war welfare, as well as defend it against obvious perils, both present and future," declared Beauford Jester after completing a swing through East Texas.

"I am gratified by the approval which peace officers have given to my declaration for a modern and humane parole and probation law which will protect citizens against release of habitual criminals.

"It also is pleasing to have so much commendation, much of it through the mail, of my plan to provide our Negro youth with a first class university, particularly for education in the professions," he said.

Jester announced that Ken McClure, radio reporter and commentator, will make a weekly broadcast on how voters are rallying to "my People's Path" designed to bring new progress and prosperity to Texas. The broadcast will be heard each Saturday on Texas State Network at 1:15 p. m.

Encouraging to Jester also was a reported poll of 3000 students at the University of Texas which showed a majority of those expressing a preference were opposed to the gubernatorial candidacy of its former president.

Dalhart Getting Ready For XIT Meet June 22-24

Dalhart, Texas, June 12—W. D. Twitchell of San Angelo, writes that he will be at the Tenth Annual XIT Reunion in Dalhart Saturday, Sunday and Monday, June 22-24, and adds: "I am registering as the oldest XIT cowhand."

He continued: "I didn't punch the cows, but I told other cowhands where to dig for water, where to line in all the post holes and build all the fences during 1886.

"I began work in Colorado City on Jan. 28, 1886. If you know of an XIT employee with an earlier date, I would like to have his name and address."

The State of Texas in the early 1880s traded three million Panhandle acres, which later became the XIT ranch, to two Chicago financiers who accepted the land in payment for the $3 million red granite capitol that is still the seat of government in Austin. Mr. Twitchell was a surveyor.

Incidentally, the annual XIT Reunion in Dalhart is the largest celebration in the West based on the history of a ranch.

Indoor Plants Add To Cheer of House

Plants add much to the beauty and enjoyment of the home, and often offer the only opportunity for satisfying the craving of the average human being for something living and green. Add an indoor window box for a cheerful note in your living rooms.

While daily care in the matter of watering, cleansing, and insect control is very important for success of indoor gardens, equally essential is the provision for a good medium of growth. Plants grown in boxes and pots obtain their nourishment from relatively small amounts of soil. Naturally they soon exhaust the soil of plant food and water. In order to take care of this need, soils used in pots and boxes should be in good physical condition and have the capacity to hold water, yet have good drainage. A soil of good physical condition may be made by mixing three parts of loam, one part of decomposed organic matter such as peat moss, composted material, or leaf mold, and one part of sand or sifted coal ashes. If one prefers, good potting soil may usually be obtained from a florist.

Physical condition of the soil has little to do with plant food content, except that a friable soil is necessary for proper root growth, and such root growth makes possible the absorption of plant food. But a friable soil may still be unfertile.

Boiling Water Removes Stains From Linens

Fresh fruits to eat are table pleasures, but they leave marks on table linen and clothes—marks that become ugly stains unless they are treated promptly and correctly. Start working on stains while they are still fresh and damp, if possible. In any case remove them before you launder the fabric. Soap or heat from the iron may "set" a fruit or berry stain, making it difficult and sometimes even impossible to get out.

Boiling water will remove most fruit stains from white or colorfast cottons or linens. Stretch the stained cloth over a bowl, and fasten with a string so it cannot slip off. Then pour on the water from a height of 3 to 4 feet. If necessary rub the fabric between applications of boiling water, to help loosen the stain. Sometimes even warm water will work successfully in removing a stain.

If the stain is not completely gone when you have finished the water treatment, put a little lemon juice on the spot and put it in the sun to bleach. Or you can use one of the chemical bleaches, such as hydrogen peroxide and sodium perborate; hydrosulphite; or javelle water.

Lost Rembrandt

A hitherto unknown drawing by Rembrandt, a sketch for his painting "Ester, Ahasuerus, and Haman" has been found in the Pushkin Museum of Fine Arts in Moscow, according to a Reuter's report. What makes the discovery even the more interesting is the sketch on the reverse side, showing the members of Rembrandt's family about the hearth in the kitchen of his house in Amsterdam about the time that he went into bankruptcy, in July, 1656. An inventory of his possessions was ordered by the Insolvency chamber, and the first sale took place in 1657, in the Keizerskroon hotel. A second followed in 1658 when the larger part of Rembrandt's etchings and drawings were disposed of. It was probably at this time that this unknown drawing began its long journey which came to an end on the walls of the Pushkin Museum of Fine Arts.

Silage Nutritious

An acre of feed put up as silage will yield twice as much milk as an acre of the same feed put up in a stack. For this reason, farmers should make a special effort to conserve more feed by placing it in the silo. On a dry basis silage has more total nutrients than hay due to the smaller loss incurred during the curing process, and in addition silage is more succulent and therefore allows for consumption of almost 100 per cent of forage plants stored in this manner. About two-thirds of the job of feeding dairy cows is a roughage feeding problem. Concentrate feeding is important, too, but the more good silage fed, the less grain will be required. About four pounds of good silage is equivalent to one pound of the concentrate ration in feed value.

Prevent Flower Frost

Pot up healthy specimens of zinnias, calendulas, marigolds and similar annuals before the first heavy frost and bring indoors for flowering plants. Be sure to incorporate a complete balanced plant food in the potting soil, using one level teaspoonful of plant food to each quart of soil. Mix the plant food thoroughly with the soil before potting plants. To prolong dahlia bloom in early fall, spray water on the plants during cold nights to keep plants from being frostbitten. Protect the hardy mums with coverings of burlap, building paper or other similar material during nights when heavy frost threatens and prolong their bloom two or three weeks. Remove the covering during the day.

Southwestern Public Service Extends to North Plains

Announcement has been made by Jack Cunningham, President of Southwestern Public Service Company, of the purchase of electric, water and ice plants in a number of cities and communities in the northwestern portion of the Texas Panhandle now owned and operated by West Texas Utilities Company. The terms of the purchase, which are understood to involve in excess of $2,000,000, have been agreed to by Southwestern Public Service Company and West Texas Utilities Company, and the final consumation of the transfer now awaits approval of governmental regulatory bodies having jurisdiction over such matters.

The Southwestern Public Service Company operates an interconnected electric system covering the North Panhandle and South Plains portion of the Texas and the Pecos Valley in southeastern New Mexico. The properties being acquired by the Public Service Company from the West Texas Utilities Company are already connected to the Public Service Company electric system. Electric power for the operation of the 33,000 volt transmission lines serving the area has been purchased by West Texas Utilities from the Public Service Company for many years.

The properties being purchased by Public Service cover the electric systems at Dalhart, Chamberlain, Conlen, Dumas, Etter, Hartley, Stratford, Sunray and Texline; the water systems at Dalhart, Dumas, Stratford, Sunray, and Texline; and a large ice plant at Dalhart which supplies ice to the general public and to the Rock Island Railroad for car icing.

One thing can be said for automobiles. They made mortgages respectable.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

When a lover holds two torches he is more apt to blind himself and step off a precipice. With more than two he may deliberately jump off.

Conversations are like boiling soap kettles in which statements quickly dissolve when they strike the caustic lye of truth.

Low clouds like red flamingoes flying into the sunset and the grotesque music of frogs, frame a trivial memory of childhood. I walked a cowpath that paralleled the winding wagon road between trees and scrub oak bushes. Warm mud pushing up between my toes produced an ecstacy that belongs to the world of little boys. On hearing the plodding hoof-beats of the horse, I stopped in a sheltered place and watched. Riding sedately in a side-saddle, the woman held the reins with an ease of one used to riding. She was sobbing softly and removed a white handkerchief from her waist pocket at intervals. I had never seen her before, nor did I ever see her afterwards. The instance was my introduction to the ageless and answerless question of a woman's tears.

Night wore her sables of sorrow like a forsaken woman meditating at the river's shore. Tear-washed stars looked down from their mezzanine of eternity with the wind playing gently on flutes of space. There was no light in the great house; the horse corral was empty. A pair of boots still bearing their spurs lay in a corner of the high-celing room. Damp with dew, a mattress and bedding were spread on the spacious lawn; a few sprigs of fern lay near the gate.

Fame without friends must be as a great banquet table set for only one.

Modern refrigeration is a splendid contribution to more satisfactory living but it fails in some qualities to compare with the cool spring house where my mother used to keep thick, white crocks of sweet cream.

Except for my own pusillanimity, the empty house would have provided shelter until the storm passed. It stood out in bold silhouette during flashes of incredible lightning which speared light through paneless windows in the upper story. Instantly the house would drop back into the sea of night and there was less trepidation in the open hills than in the thoughts of the eerie protection. Large drops of rain quickly drove the warmth out of my shirt, then fine hail whipped by blasts of wind beat my face and arms. Water pressed up over the tops of my shoes and my trousers stuck to my legs; each step required more effort, like trying to swim while hampered by clothing. The earth trembled after each wide blade of lightning. I was looking toward the house when the bolt struck and I felt the panic of ominous terror when flames quickly stuck their tongues through the windows. The rain was a red curtain laced by white flashes for a few moments, then the fire retreated into the darkness from which it had sprung. The rain was like a million buckets being emptied on the earth but its panic was passing. After a time I found the road bracketed along the sides of familiar hills and ragged pieces of stars and sky moved like floating islands in a sea of tossing clouds.

Failure often owes its success to a dominating desire for comfort.

At the vendue of love it is possible to become so engrossed with bidding that the item's value may have little relation to the price for which it sells.

My generation served as a metamorphic period between two colorful eras; pioneer and modern. It was a depot between trains. During the period of my boyhood the prairie still held white, splintering buffalo horns, yet I saw my first live buffalo in a city zoo. A few weeks ago I learned that the vanished beasts of the prairie were the only animals that turned their heads into a blizzard or storm.

It is logical that the best place to correct a mistake is before it is made, but the experience which would be lost should not be ignored.

SHRINKAGE VS. SCORCHAGE

Ad of a Kansas City hotel carries this message: "This hotel fully equipped with automatic sprinklers. Statistics show loss of life has never occurred in a sprinkled building; in case of fire, you may get wet, but not burned.

So one traveler wrote the following prayer: "Now I lay me down to sleep, statistics guard my slumber deep: If I should die, I'm not concerned; I may get wet, but won't get burned."

AND WHAT ABOUT INFLATION?

"What are the properties of heat and cold?"

"Heat expands, the cold contracts."

"Correct. Give an example."

"In summer when it's hot the days are long, and in winter when it's cold the days are short."

Al Baggett Resumes Head of Athletic Department of W. T.

Miller, Nicklaus, and Van Meter Are Assigned to Posts in Department

Announcement was made by President J. A. Hill this week of the changes to be made in the athletic department.

Al Baggett will be athletic director and head of the physical education department.

Gus Miller will be head basketball coach and assistant in physical education department.

Windy Nicklaus is slated to be headfootball and track coach.

Leslie Van Meter will act as assistant athletic director, assistant football coach and instructor in the physical education department.

Dr. Hill also announced a plan to extend the physical education department so as to include every male student in the college.

Baggett recently returned to the campus after serving in the army. He was Mediterranean theater athletic officer for more than two years, holding the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Before going into service, he coached the "Tall Buffs" in addition to his duties as athletic director. He came to West Texas State in 1933 as head football coach, after establishing an outstanding record at Amarillo College. He also coached at Wichita Falls Junior College and Vernon High School.

A West Texas State athletic standout in his college days, Miller served as acting athletic director during Baggett's absence.

He also held down the head football and basketball coaching posts. He took up coaching duties here in 1942, prior to which time he had held positions at Texas Wesleyan College of Fort Worth, Trinidad and Slaton High Schools.

Nicklaus also began his coaching duties here in 1942. He has been assistant football and head track mentor. His previous coaching experience includes posts at Amarillo College, Oklahoma Baptist College, Altus Junior College, Borger High School, Tahoka High School, and Horace Mann Junior High in Amarillo. He was the first football captain at Texas Tech in 1925, and captained the first Amarillo High School grid team to be known as the Golden Sandstorm in 1922.

Van Meter served four years in the Army. He was an officer in the physical training department. He served as assistant football coach in pre-war days.

Misses Hammond and Holt on Mission Fields in New Mex.

Miss Beulah Hammond and Miss Georgia Holt are among the students selected for special mission work during the summer, under direction of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, which employs more than seven hundred full-time missionaries in its territory. A group of college students, most of them volunteers for a life of missionary service at home and abroad, will serve in various parts of the South during the summer, and Misses Hammond and Holt went to Albuquerque last week and will spend the summer at mission points in New Mexico. They will work with experienced workers and will thereby be enabled to render a needed service as they get a new concept of mission needs and mission work.

Miss Hammond, who was recently graduated from West Texas State College, has been approved as a student in Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and will enter when boarding space is obtained, which she hopes will be in September. Miss Holt will be a senior at W. T. this fall and is President of Baptist Student Union on the local campus, a place which Miss Hammond filled the past two years. Both will return to Canyon in late summer.

Howard E. Anderson of Liberty, Mo., sent a cable to his father, a missionary in Moga, Punjab, India, announcing the birth of a child. The message read simply, "Isiah 9:6." His father wired back, "Proverbs 25-25." Isia 9-6 begins, "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder." You may want to look up Proverbs 25-25 for yourself.

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of June 16, 1921)

With an enrollment of 1225 students, all previous records have been broken for summer session of the normal.

Due to wash-outs on the Colorado line of the Santa Fe, 120 passenger trains passed through Canyon in six days. All of the through trains were routed this way.

Three Randall county men, natives of Germany, received their naturalization papers in federal court. They were Frederick Schutte, Gustav Leseberg and Frederick Rogge.

The new Legion Hall will be completed next week.

Newton Harrell and Burney Slack returned from Austin where they are attending the university.

Laymen Christian Church Attended Meeting Tuesday

The Christian Churches of the Panhandle held a Layman's League banquet in Amarillo Thursday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church. Guests at the banquet from Canyon were Gene Root, Marion Higdon, Dr. C. A. Pierle, W. A. Miller, W. H. McKee, Mitchell Jones, Lorenzo Wirt, Dr. Conrad Freed, and Joseph Findley. Henry C. Munn of Amarillo, district governor of the Layman's League presided at the meeting. Special guest speaker and entertainer was Rev. William Deathridge of the Second Christian Church of Houston.

One of the humorous high points of the program was the caricature drawing period conducted by Rev. Deathridge. Most of the victims of his satirical pencil were ministers, including Joseph Findley of Canyon, Ward Gregg of Perryton and Roy Ford of Hereford. The only layman who was persuaded to sit for a drawing was Dr. Frank Rogers of Amarillo. The drawing of the local minister was "unveiled" last Sunday at the assembly of the First Christian Church Sunday School.

Mrs. Myrtle Ledlow of Abilene, Texas is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mamie Lockwood at Palo Duro Club.
